

CONFLICT MANAGEMENT IN HIGHER EDUCATION REPORT

Volume 1, Number 1, Jan/Feb 2000

The "Art" of Campus Mediation

Most colleges and universities now provide campus programs with webspace to post brochures, policies or course materials online. This provides campus mediation initiatives with the opportunity to create an valuable online presence. The Campus Mediation Resources website maintains a list of links to examples (<http://www.mtds.wayne.edu/cms.htm>) of mediation information online that I have found. While many of the existing efforts are still rather "plain," occasionally one comes upon some interesting and creative work. In this "art"icle, readers are invited to view some examples of campus mediation graphics. Links to the programs featured below can be found at the above noted list. Perhaps you'll be inspired to try developing some of your own artwork. If you do, please let us know for future reference.

UC Irvine Campus Mediation Program

Humboldt Peacemakers Association

NYU Student Mediation Services

Livingston College (Rutgers University) Mediation Center

Michigan State University Setting Expectations, Resolving Conflict Program

The University of Texas - Austin Conflict Resolution Center

Tulane University Mediation Program

Gettysburg College Campus Mediation Program

CAMPUS MEDIATION PROGRAM

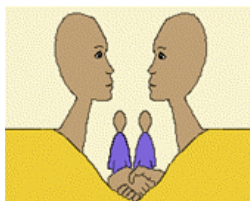

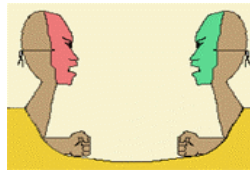

RESOLVING CONFLICT
THROUGH MEDIATION

University of Michigan Student Mediation Service

MIT's mediation@mit

University of Auckland Mediator's Office - Online

Montclair State University Campus Peer Mediation Center

Center for Conflict Resolution at Salisbury
State University

Student Conflict Resolution Service, University of Colorado Boulder

