

School for Conflict Analysis and Resolution

International Conference on Conflict Resolution Education (CRE)

"Developing and Implementing Culturally Inclusive Conflict Resolution Education Policies and Practices in K-12 and Higher Education"

June 11 – 16, 2014

Hosted by George Mason University, Fairfax, Virginia, USA

www.CREducation.org/cre/goto/creconf

As of April 6, 2014, 17 students were awarded scholarships. They represent 13 U.S. colleges and universities. Congratulations!

Names of Students, H.E. Institution, Field of Study

1. Hawraa Akhond, George Mason University, Social Justice Counseling
2. Cendrine Bomboko, George Washington University, International Education with a focus in Conflict Resolution
3. Ana Cho, Green River Community College, Business
4. Tyrone Crew, Kent State University, Applied Conflict Management
5. Hanna Elmongy, University of Pennsylvania, Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering
6. Kareemah Hairston, Cuyahoga Community College, Peace Studies and Conflict Resolution/Philosophy
7. Zahra Ismail, University of San Diego, Master of Education: Curriculum and Instruction
8. Matthew Justice, Cuyahoga Community College, Business Administration/Conflict Resolution
9. Salina Khana, Virginia Tech, Public and International Affairs
10. Simon Khayala, Earlham College School of Religion, Peace and Justice
11. Cody Knotts, Cleveland State University, Communications with emphasis on cross-cultural communication and minor in international politics
12. Monica Leblanc, Lindenwood University, International Relations/Non-profit Administration

13. Sheila Quintana, University of Pennsylvania, Anthropology
14. Birthe Reimers, Kennesaw State University, International Conflict Management
15. Taylor Sawyer, The Ohio State University, John Glenn School of Public Affairs
16. Theoneste Sentabire, Earlham School of Religion, Master of Divinity in Peace Studies
17. Mainlehwon Vonhm, George Mason University, International Education