Professor Thorngren and NCC students at Poas Volcano, June 2010

This course focuses on cutting-edge concepts in peace education, leadership and sustainability. The course is planned to provide students with the knowledge and perspective for leading with a new spirit of understanding, cooperation and sensitivity to global interconnectedness. Classroom learning will be complemented with interactive visits to organizations that embody the principles of peace and sustainability.

This course involves strenuous activities, including the following: Hiking to the Poas Volcano; exploring a mountainside organic farm and trekking through the Children's Eternal Rain Forest at Mont Verde.

Applicants must be NCC students in good academic and financial standing. Priority will be given to Liberal Arts Students, concentrating in Peace and Social Justice.

Cost: $2,443.00 (2011 price)

Includes: Tuition, Housing, Food and Airfare (airfare may vary)

Financial Aid is available for those who qualify.
