

Study in Costa Rica

The Social, Historical and Political Implications of Peace in Costa Rica Course June 5 - 18, 2011

Only 4 students from Tri-C will be accepted.

Tri-C application due December 15, 2010. If accepted, an additional application to CCID and a $200 deposit will be due February 4, 2011.

To apply, please contact Roberta Hendrick at 216-987-4548 or roberta.hendrick@tri-c.edu or Jennifer Batton at 216-987-2231 or
jennifer.batton@tri-c.edu.

Offered by Tri-C in cooperation with CCID (Community Colleges for International Development), two other community colleges, and our
in-country University
partner ULACIT.

Learn about Costa Rica's philosophy of peace, as well as its economic, political and environmental implications.

On the weekend,
choose from several options, including an ocean beach,
a canopy walk in a cloud forest, or shopping and museums in San Jose.

While in the capital of San Jose, learn from the country's experts on economics, security, sustainability and education.

Visit the United Nations University for Peace, Earth University, the Monteverde cloud forest, an indigenous community, and a sustainable coffee plantation.

For more information regarding costs, accommodations, and itinerary, go to the Tri-C website at: http://www.tri-c.edu/enrichment/communityservices/GRIC/Pages/StudyAbroad.aspx.
Scholarships available to help defray the costs.